

PRIVACY POLICY

Engineering Students' Society respects your right to privacy. This Privacy Policy is intended to help users of the Engineering Students' Society Service ("you") understand the information Engineering Students' Society ("we") collects and how we use such information. The Engineering Students' Society Service ("the Service") encompasses the breadth of all Engineering Students' Society technology and services, including but not limited to ticket sales, event registration, access control, and client and customer service. By using the Engineering Students' Society Service, you are consenting to the use of your information as set forth in this policy.

What information do we collect?

As part of the process of registering for an event, ticket buyers, or attendees, must agree to volunteer some information about themselves. This information may include name, email address, UCID, phone number, as well as other information required to complete the registration process. In addition to this personal information, Engineering Students' Society collects non-personally identifiable information, including but not limited to IP addresses, approximate geographic regions, browsers, operating systems, and other device characteristics.

How do we use this information?

First and foremost, information is collected to help us deliver the highest level of service to our users. Here are some of the specific ways in which we accomplish that:

Use for Specific Purpose: Information provided for a specific purpose will be used for that purpose. Most commonly, this applies to information provided during the registration process, which will be used to fulfill your request to attend an event (for example, processing payments).

Communication: Engineering Students' Society and event organizers may use the information you provide to communicate with you. This communication channel exists to share important information, such as cancellations or warnings about the events you are attending. Engineering Students' Society and event organizers may also contact you about related events and other information.

How is this information shared?

Engineering Students' Society may share your information with other parties in limited circumstances:

Event Organizers: When you purchase a ticket or register as an attendee for an event, we will share your information and associated analytics with the organizer of that event.

Vendors, Consultants, Service Providers: Engineering Students' Society works with vendors, consultants and service providers to perform business-related functions. These engagements can include payment processing, risk management services, analytics services, marketing services, software consultation, and others. During these engagements, we may need to share information provided in order to perform business-related functions.

Legal Requirements: Where required by law, Engineering Students' Society may share certain information with law enforcement, courts, or government agencies.

Engineering Students' Society is not responsible for any personal information posted on this website in a non-confidential manner (i.e. not posted via a secure form), and such information is not subject to the policies above.

Credit card information is not stored or shared on our site or servers.
